DEFER CHARLESTON RACING

MEETING AT NEW TRACK WILL NOT BEGIN UNTIL WEDNESDAY OF NEXT WEEK.

Week's Delay Considered Advisable in View of Condition of the Course—Meeting Will Be Extended Beyond Original Closing Date.

Charleston, S. C., January 8.—At a conference held yesterday at which all the racing officials were present, it was decided to defer the opening of racing here for one week, making the inaugural day January 17 instead of January 10, as originally planned. The decision to postpone the opening followed a visit to the course in the morning and a survey of the damage done to the track by the hard rains of the preceding night. The fill, which has in the past given the constructors much trouble, was found to have sunk nearly a foot and other weak spots on the track had developed. The work on the track would have been tackled speedily and the damage repaired yesterday, but the builders could not procure the necessary laborers to tackle the job. The wet and cold weather was responsible for not more than twenty men reporting for work out of the 100 expected.

The necessity for postponing was annoying to General Manager Pons, who has been sanguine all along that he would be able to throw the course open for racing on the date announced. He still feels that he could have the plant in presentable shape to begin on Wednesday next, but it was pointed out to him the advantages of having the structure entirely completed for the opening and he reluctantly consented. He announced to the horsemen that the track would be turned over to them on Wednesday next for the galloping of their horses.

With the additional week in which to fully complete the plant, nothing will be lacking for the opening, and the course should present a spick and span appearance when the bugle calls the horses to the post in the initial dash.

"Nothing short of an earthquake can cause a further postponement of the opening," said General Manager Pons today. "There is little to be done on the track proper, and what little there is can be accomplished in less than two days. As a matter of fact, I still adhere to the belief that we could have been in fair shape to open on Wednesday next, but I wanted to satisfy the horsemen that the track was firm and safe. There is little to be done on the grandstand and other appointments of the plant, and we will open with a fully completed course on January 17."

The Sumter Inaugural Handicap, scheduled for decision on the opening day, and the St. John's Hotel Selling Stakes, originally scheduled to be run on January 13, will be decided on January 17 and 20, respectively.

The postponement of one week will not affect the plans of the management to conduct racing for seventy-five days, as announcement was made that the racing season, instead of terminating on April 5, would be prolonged to April 12.

Manager Pons of the Charleston Fair and Racing Association announced this afternoon that A. B. Dade had been engaged to do the starting during the meeting which will open at Palmetto Park January 17. Mr. Dade enjoys a reputation second to none as a starter and his selection to fill a vacancy created by the inability of James Milton to serve as starter meets with general favor. P. A. Brady has been selected as one of the stewards, will also be an absentee from the official roster. It has not yet been decided who will fill Mr. Brady's place, but several good men are available and it is the purpose of the club not to select a man hurriedly. W. P. Burch is the presiding steward and his associate will be a horseman of importance.

The absence of Messrs. Milton and Brady from their respective positions is a result of the court proceeding instituted against the Columbia Racing Association during the meeting in that city. Messrs. Milton and Brady acted as officials at Columbia and it was deemed best that they should not be connected in a similar capacity with Charleston racing. The association has the most friendly feeling for both Messrs. Milton and Brady and it was with much regret that the decision to dispense with their services was reached.

General Manager Pons gave out the following statement: "In order that the public may understand fully our disappointment in not having James Milton serve as starter for the Charleston Fair and Racing Association, as well as Judge Brady in another capacity, I desire to make it clear that it was because of the court proceedings in Columbia, with which I found their names connected. Not desiring in any way to antagonize the court, I felt called upon to request the resignation of these gentlemen as to their intended connection with our meeting. Personally I hold these two gentlemen in high regard and Mr. Milton is my personal friend. It is with regret I deem it necessary to take this action, as I consider Mr. Milton a starter not only universally liked, but perfectly competent, and believe with such an opportunity as would have been given him here, he would have justified his appointment."

The weather conditions today prevented much progress in construction work on the course. Rain fell in torrents all morning and fairly flooded the plant. A large force of men have been engaged and are awaiting favorable conditions to start working with extra teams to complete the fill on the far turn.

There were a number of arrivals from different points during the past twenty-four hours. The big racing establishment of Catesby Woodford arrived from Kentucky last night in charge of Jack McCormick. There were twenty horses in the lot and included in the number were several Star Shoot two-year-olds, also a brother to Roseben and the good three-year-old Sonada.

Every steamer and train is adding big numbers to the already large concourse of horsemen and turf followers assembled here, and this staid and quaint city is undergoing a transformation in its personnel. It now presents almost a metropolitan appearance. Every one is enthusiastic over the prospects for a successful season of racing and there is no doubt that Charleston promises better for winter racing than has any plant since the close at New Orleans. Well informed politicians do not look for the passage of any anti-racing legislation during the approaching session of the South Carolina Legislature. The preponderance of local sentiment appears to be in favor of the sport. Many who are not familiar with the sport are disposed to give it a fair trial before taking a stand for or against it. The management will naturally make every effort to eliminate all objectionable features, with the idea of establishing racing on a permanent basis here.

GOSSIP FROM BLUE GRASS REGION.

Lexington, Ky., January 8.—Because of the inclement weather J. C. Milam has deferred shipment of his string of fourteen racers to Charleston until later in the week.

Will Overton, who returned from Charleston this morning, says that the plant is in a state of such unpreparedness that even with good weather it will be about all the management can do to have it ready for opening on January 17, the deferred date.

DECISION RENDERED IN COLUMBIA CASE.

Supreme Court of South Carolina Dismisses Proceedings Against Race Track.

Columbia, S. C., January 8.—The Supreme Court today dismissed the proceedings instituted December 8 to show cause why the racing promoters should not be enjoined on the ground of having maintained a nuisance, in permitting betting to be carried on at the track while the races were run. Col. P. H. Nelson and Mr. W. S. Nelson, of the firm of Nelson, Nelson & Gattys, of attorneys for the race meeting promoters, argued the motion to dismiss the rule, while Assistant Attorney-General M. P. DeBruhl appeared for the state, opposing the dismissal of the rule and asking that an injunction be granted.

The answer to the rule was made by J. W. Rice, A. N. Elrod, A. T. Heise and C. J. Lynch, of the Columbia Racing Association; F. W. Ambrose, the alleged head of the "bookmakers," and J. M. Cantey, the secretary of the State Fair Society, the latter the owners of the ground where the races were held. The substance of the answers of these parties holds that, as the races have stopped, the alleged nuisance, which they deny to have been a nuisance, has been abated and that therefore there is nothing for the court to consider. The Fair Society denies any knowledge of any nuisance and states that they rented the grounds to C. J. Lynch for one month for the sum of $1,000, and that they were not parties to any of the alleged conditions at the race track.

Attorneys for the racing promoters stated that there was an agreement between the promoters and the Attorney-General, that if the races should be stopped on December 30 that there would be no ground for a hearing on the rule to show cause, and Colonel Nelson pointed out that in compliance with this agreement the races were ended on December 30, instead of January 6, the date originally set as the time when they were to end. Assistant Attorney-General DeBruhl said that the Attorney-General did not understand that any such agreement had been made, but argument on this point was ended by the court calling attention to the rules that all such agreements must be submitted in writing.

The main point on which the attorneys for the respondents asked that the rule be dismissed was that the races had ended and that if a common nuisance had been maintained, in permitting betting to be carried on at the track while the races were in progress, which they denied, that it had been abated, since the races had ended and that there was nothing to consider by the court. Authorities for this position were cited by the attorneys, Messrs. Nelson & Nelson.

In opposing this point, Mr. DeBruhl contended that the races had ended—on the eve of the hearing and this would not prevent an injunction being issued against them and cited rulings of the Supreme Court in the "blind tiger" injunction proceedings to sustain his position. In other words, his position was that the races were ended on the eve of the hearing in order for their side to be in a position to argue, and not to dodge the injunction proceedings as alleged by the position of the state.

It will be noted that the meeting promoters held that the races were ended on December 30, in accordance with an alleged agreement with the Attorney-General, and not to dodge the injunction proceedings as alleged by the position of the state.

Colonel Nelson, in reply to a question of the court, stated that they would be willing for the rule to be dismissed with the costs up to the present to be paid by the respondents, the racing promoters.

At one time in the argument Mr. De Bruhl, in replying to a statement by the opposing counsel relative to the injunction proceedings being pushed against the Columbia promoters in order to have some effect on the Charleston race meeting, said that he knew nothing of any proceedings against the Charleston racing.

The hearing took place last week and in its decision rendered today the court held that the respondents had shown in good faith that the alleged nuisance complained of had been abated.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Albert Simons recently underwent a minor operation in a Washington, D. C., hospital.

John H. Morris has had the misfortune to lose the two-year-old colt by Cesarion—Mary Agnes, which he purchased out of the Powers-Hunter Co.'s November sale at Lexington. The colt was shipped to Charleston in charge of James S. Everman and died shortly after arriving there.

Columbia merchants give the racing that was going on there during the month of December credit for the best Christmas trade they have ever known. The business men are convinced that the racing brought considerable money into the town. Out of town visitors that went there for the races were purchasers on a large scale.

At the recent annual meeting of the United Hunts Racing Association, Perry Belmont was elected president; H. S. Page, first vice-president; Henry W. Bull, second vice-president; J. Watson Webb, treasurer, and H. A. Buck, secretary. Plans were made for a spring meeting to be held at Belmont Park Terminal Thursday, June 6, and Saturday, June 8.

At the annual meeting of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, S. S. Howland, J. E. Cowdin and H. S. Page were elected stewards until 1915. The stewards elected August Belmont, president; J. H. Alexander, vice-president, and H. J. Morris secretary and treasurer for the year 1912. Frank J. Bryan was elected secretary of the Hunts Committee.

It is understood to be the intention of the interests that have obtained an option on the Sheephead Bay track to change it into an immense playground. The proposed changes include the construction of an automobile track two miles in circumference, golf links, archery and tennis courts, many "diamonds" for baseball, polo fields, a steeplechase course for amateur racing and artificial canals which will furnish a waterway to Jamaica Bay, and thus provide a course over which motor boats may race.

BOOKING TO CONTINUE AT COEUR D'ALENE.

El Paso, Tex., January 8.—After carefully looking into the merits of the pari-mutuel system of betting compared with that of bookmaking, the management of the Coeur d'Alene track have decided that at present it is not advisable to make any change. Accordingly, the bookmakers will hold forth during the spring meeting at Coeur d'Alene. In speaking of the matter, W. W. Finn, the club's representative, who is now at Juarez, stated that while he approved of the pari-mutuels, he thought that, as much as the people of Spokane, from which city the track's chief patronage is derived, had shown a liking for the booking method at the initial meeting last summer, it would be inadvisable to make a change. He stated further that in his opinion Spokane has not a sufficiently large population to support the pari-mutuel system and make worth while its adoption.

CORRECTION OF ODDS.

The Juarez correspondent of Daily Racing Form wires that an error was made in compiling the place odds sent out against John H. Sheehan in the chart of race 1034, at Juarez on Saturday last. The correct odds were 2½ to 1.

COLUMBIA CONTINGENT WILL BE READY.

Horses in Training at That Point for Charleston Racing Well Advanced in Preparation.

Columbia, S. C., January 8.—Since the close of the local racing season a number of horsemen have remained here to fit their horses for the opening at Charleston. It was known that the Charleston track was not a suitable training ground in its unfinished condition, and in fact, Manager Pons had suggested that the strings be kept away from his track until a few days before the opening. This injunction was disregarded by some horsemen, but they have been the losers. The horses that have remained at Columbia have had an excellent training ground and will be unloaded at Charleston ready to go to the post.

The shipments to Charleston have begun, but there are some owners who will wait here with their horses until the meeting is under way before they will make a change of base. Columbia has had more than its share of wet weather, but the track is a safe, good training ground, and particularly those who contemplate racing two-year-olds have profited by staying here.

By some error a notice was posted in the office of the secretary recently that owners remaining on the grounds would be required to pay a stall rent of $2 for each horse. This came as an unpleasant surprise and the horsemen talked of packing up at once, but a visit to the Fair Association stockholders resulted in all being invited to stay as long as they pleased as the guests of the association.

The horses that have already been shipped to Charleston include Dolly Bultman, Chippewayan, Abstraction, Oakley, Starboard, The Cat, Sarg Kirk, Nello, Appelle and Hilda. Genes of the E. McCloskey string; W. Casey's Centre Shot and Lydia Lee; J. S. Ownbey's Dr. Heard and Judge Howell; Neil Mark's Huda's Sister and Wild Dove; S. H. Kunz also has left with Dr. Burch, Dunc Campbell, Sig Levy, Rhassett, Lord Kemmer and Maxine B.

R. L. Riles has shipped his jumpers, Enniskillen and Black Bridge, to Baltimore. They will winter at the Pimlico track and be fitted for the opening of the Maryland Jockey Club season there.

J. U. Strode sent his lot back to Lexington, Ky. In this shipment were Horicon, Toddling and Ossabar.

John P. Mayberry has severed his connection with the Marrone stable. The continued ill-luck of the horses throughout the Columbia meeting had much to do with his resignation. Willie Feeney, well known about New York tracks, has come on to take charge of the horses. Old St. Joseph, a horse over which Joseph Marrone had his disastrous trouble with the Washington Jockey Club, has been on the ailing list for a long time, but is rounding to now and may be raced during the Charleston meeting.

Recent work-outs of horses in training here were as follows:

Appassionata—Half mile in 57. Has all her speed and is ready.
Argonaut—Half mile in 55. At his best in the heavy going.
Barney Igce—Three-quarters in 1:26. Looks good and works well at all times.
Bertis—Three-quarters in 1:25½. Was going along nicely all the way.
Bill Barnes—Half mile in 56. Has all his good speed and is ready.
Bonnie Bee—Five-eighths in 1:08. Was well in hand at the finish.
Camel—Half mile in 56½. Has all his speed and never looked better.
Casque—Three-eighths in 44.
Crescent—Half mile in 56½. Has not been asked to show much speed.
Donovan—Three-quarters in 1:27. Does not seem to improve much.
Dust—Five-eighths in 1:07. At his best.
Eddie Grange—Three-quarters in 1:25. Has plenty of speed and is ready.
Efficiency—Half mile in 57½. Was going along well in hand all the way.
Force—Half mile in 55½. Looks good.
Golden Treasure—Three-quarters in 1:24½.
Herbert Turner—Seven-eighths in 1:43. Has all his time speed and is ready.
Highland—Five-eighths in 1:09. Now at her best.
Ivabel—Half mile in 54½. Coming around nicely to her good form.
Judge Monck—Three-quarters in 1:26½. Was going along nicely through the work.
Kaufman—Seven-eighths in 1:42½. Eased up.
King Avondale—Half mile in 58. Has all his speed and never looked better.
Leon B.—Half mile in 56½.
Michael Angelo—Seven-eighths in 1:40. Looks good and likes the going.
Montaigne—Half mile in 57. Ready, but taking time to ease up.
New Star—Half mile in 56½. Has plenty of speed, but acts meanly.
Otto—Three-quarters in 1:25. Had plenty of speed to show in the going.
Quincy Belle—Five-eighths in 1:08.
Ragman—Half mile in 56. Has not been doing much for some time.

LEOPOLD VASILY IMPROVED RACER.

Yanko Horse Beats Arasee, Sebago and Other Good Ones in Handicap at Juarez.

El Paso, Tex., January 8.—The racing at Juarez yesterday was exciting and full of surprises. The attendance was far above the average for Sunday, and the weather was perfect. An allowance race at one mile brought out a field of good class and resulted in a duel between Leopold, Arasee and Sebago, the former greatly improved horse winning in a hard drive by a head from Arasee, with Sebago a tiring third. The honors of the race belonged rightfully to Arasee, as he was jumped upon and severely cut during the running. It made apparently little difference to the lion-hearted son of Blues, for he closed with rare gameness and just failed by a short head to achieve victory. The rest of the field were strung out for almost a sixteenth of a mile behind the placed horses. Meadow was never at any time prominent. She acted badly at the post and had as a rider Groth, who was of absolutely no assistance to her.

Hawthorn won the two-year-old race in the same impressive manner as on the occasion of his first essay. Juan surprised everyone, including his owner, by winning the mile and a quarter race with ease and incidentally reducing the track record by three-fifths of a second, to 2:07.

J. W. Fuller has secured the contract on jockey Roy Selden. Jockey Estep was suspended for ten days by the starter for pulling up at the barrier with Lady Tendi in the third race.

$7,500 FAILS TO TEMPT E. R. BRADLEY.

Lexington, Ky., January 8.—E. R. Bradley, en route from Chicago to Palm Beach, Fla., stopped off here yesterday to spend a day or so at his Idle Hour Farm. Trainer Charles H. Hughes met Mr. Bradley in the Phoenix Hotel about noon and greeted him with: "I'll give you $7,500 for the Yankee Gun—Black Tail colt." "Nothing doing, Charlie," replied Mr. Bradley. Mr. Hughes had previously offered Mr. Bradley $5,000 for this colt, which was pronounced by Richard Croker upon his recent visit here one of the grandest thoroughbreds he had seen in years. Mr. Bradley said he would not take $10,000 for the colt.

WHERE RACING PROSPERS

FAMOUS AMERICAN TRAINERS DESCRIBE CONDITIONS IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

A. J. Joyner, J. H. McCormick and Thomas Welch Return from Abroad to Spend Brief Vacations and Speak Glowingly of Their Experiences.

New York, January 8.—There were gathered around a table at the Hoffman House recently a group of the most renowned trainers ever seen in America. It included James Rowe, Tom Healey, Tom Welch, J. H. McCormick and A. J. Joyner. The last-named had just come from England on the Lusitania, and the others had hastened to welcome him back to America. McCormick has been back from Germany for several weeks, flushed with his most successful year on the German turf. Welch had spent the summer in France, imbibing all needed information for his forthcoming season when he will train a good-sized stable for Joseph E. Widener.

Tom Healey never fails to "foregather" with his former rivals in developing stake horses, eager to hear all that he can about the high-class men who carry on racing in Europe. Rowe, as general manager for Harry Payne Whitney's horses here, acts as commissary-general to Jack Joyner's stable at Newmarket, and will keep it supplied with the best material left in this country until such time as that material exhausts itself. Then what? How long will Mr. Whitney continue to breed horses here, send them across the water at great risk and expense, and try to win the English classics with material that must be kept at the very highest notch to give it a chance? With no racing in this state, there will be no object in importing the best horses and mares, with the idea of sending their best produce abroad.

Joyner paid unstinted praise to the English turf. "It is popular, as you can realize when you read about the hundreds of thousands who go to the Derby and St. Leger. At the same time it can only be actually indulged in by wealthy men, as owners, because the expenses are far in excess of anything in America. I have to send horses to as many as fifty different places in the course of a season. In many of the races the entrance fees make up the prizes run for, and there is sometimes an excess. The short meetings help to do away with the cry of too much racing at any one point. England is and will continue to be the home of the best horses in the world. You can't buy the Derby or St. Leger winners unless under exceptional circumstances, such as the death of the owner and the settlement of his estate. Even then you are likely to be outbid, as instance the case of Flying Fox, for which nearly $189,000 was paid. Such a horse as Lord Derby's Swynford is not for sale at any price. Neither is Bayardo or Lemberg. Such mares as Sceptre and Signorina are kept in the country by patriotic men like Mr. Weatherby and Lord Roschey. As for our own chances, why you ought to see the horses at Newmarket and elsewhere. They are simply grand to look at—they keep their flesh well, and are not raced often—that is, the high-class ones. I have a good opinion of Sweeper II, for the Two Thousand Guineas, and my friend Mr. Hulton certainly has a good colt in Lomond, which may win the Derby. We have forty-four horses in training, mostly two-year-olds. There are about 5,000 in Great Britain. It would look to be long odds against our doing well, wouldn't it? As for half-mile racing by two-year-olds there is a big difference of opinion as to its merits. Whether it be half a mile or five furlongs, the pace is sure to be fast all the way since the American jockeys set the fashion of making the running from the start, and it seems to some that it would hurt a young horse less to run half a mile at top speed than five furlongs at top speed.

McCormick, who has had a pleasure of training Dolomit, an unbeaten two-year-old, by Ard Patrick, one of the German Government's studs' stallions, McCormick now has fifty-six horses in training for his several employers, of whom Baron Oppenheim is the most notable. To listen to this shrewd American's stories of notable turfmen for the past twelve years is to participate in the pleasure of the pleasure, equaled at a professional event. He is known all over the racing world for his humor. Episodes with Messrs. Keene, Belmont, Bell, Thomas and others well known to turfmen figure in his anecdotes. He owns horses at Sheephead Bay and Brighton Beach, for which he has no longer pay dividends, and holds notes which will never be redeemed. But Simeon Ford, Patrick Francis Murphy, or the late "Joe" Ryan could give no weight to McCormick in his amusing comments concerning his bad investments.

Speaking about Hermis, just reported sold to Edmond Blanc, McCormick, who trained the "little red horse" from August of 1901 to the following spring, said: "The published price $60,000 was the exact price paid by Mr. E. R. Thomas. Mr. Bell had no more idea of selling him than I had of becoming King of England. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas admired the horse greatly, and when Mr. Bell was asked if he would sell him, he thinking to put a prohibitive price upon the horse, said $60,000. When Mr. Thomas said he would take him Mr. Bell nearly had a fit."

"You need never expect permanent racing restored here in America unless the government takes a hand in it," continued McCormick. "In Germany the public is in favor of the sport, but they pay heavily for the privilege of betting, for 16 per cent is deducted out of every kronen that is put into the totalizer. That is as it should be. If the people must bet, let them pay for it. But the money taken comes back to the people in another way. It is put into the purchase of the best stallions and mares that can be secured in England, France, or Russia, and the far-famed army remounts of Germany come from these thoroughbreds. Are the great statesmen of America so blind that they cannot see the end of their war on racing? Let them look at what is going on in every European country. Even the once despised Italy has a national stud as the foundation of its cavalry. Look at Austria with one stud farm alone of 50,000 acres, where 6,000 men are employed. Look at Germany with 3,500 stallions, and France with an equal number. Austria has numerous breeding farms for cavalry remounts. Oh, what a lot we Americans have yet to learn from the old countries."

"Grunewald," continued McCormick, "is forty years ahead of its time. It is the most perfectly appointed course I ever saw. When I was out in San Francisco, I thought the up-to-date electric devices worth talking about. Just imagine that the bath rooms for the jockeys at the Grunewald course is not excelled in its details by the Waldorf-Astoria. So, too, with the clubhouse and grandstand. There is no training at the track. All that is done at Hoppegarten, in another part of the outskirts of Berlin. We send our horses in a special train each day from Hoppegarten to Grunewald, where there is a splendid receiving stable. Then the saddling paddock. At Hoppegarten there are various kinds of courses—turf, sand, tan, gallops, etc. To gallop a horse on anyone of these costs thirty kronens, or six dollars. I frequently gallop twenty on a day, so you see how it costs to train a big stable. But

FLYING WOLF
4-1 :: WON

I opened the New Year with a winner. I ask no share of the profits, as odds were not what I thought, although the horse had not won in his preceding 12 starts. Now I have the goods, which will pay the big prices, and I know we will both make money.

SATURDAY JANUARY 12

every thing

my connections will start the first plun they have GOOD and RIPE. While this horse has shown nothing of any account in previous races, I am informed by the trainer that they were waiting to develop a good one at a point that failure would be well-nigh impossible. Under the circumstances
I am going to give you an opportunity to share with me a class of SECRET INFORMATION which stands by itself. I ask you to judge for yourself after you receive SATURDAY'S HORSE whether it pays liberal odds and the easy time this horse will have in winning Saturday's race. Above all, let me convince you, ABSOLUTELY FREE OF CHARGE, how on Saturday big money can be made with limited capital. I capital, or anything in advance. Only promise to send me $10 after the race, provided the horse wins at 5 TO 1. Nothing if odds are under 5 TO 1. Can I do more? Don't I take all the chances? If you will treat me right, send me your name and address at once. No postal cards, or general delivery addresses recognized.

If I have your name do not write again. You will hear from me. Address

FLYING WOLF
4-1 :: WON

I opened the New Year with a winner. I ask no share of the profits, as odds were not what I thought, although the horse had not won in his preceding 12 starts. Now I have the goods, which will pay the big prices, and I know we will both make money.

My People Win

(HORSE FILED WITH THIS PAPER.)

The only horse advised last week started Thursday as per my advertisement and won easily. This horse

Was Not the Favorite, but the contract with my connections is such that I cannot publish the name of horse or the details.

The name of horse was filed with this paper and everyone knows that whatever appears here, must be the truth or it could not be here. I advise only one horse and only then when I know every thing is "right."

The horse that was to have started Saturday could not go to the post on account of a coughing spell that developed Thursday, causing a rise in temperature, but will start as soon as ready to win.

(TOMORROW) WEDNESDAY,
my next special goes.

My connections assure me that this horse will win as easily as the only horse I sent out last week, which won on Thursday, at even better odds, and I expect to duplicate this with a horse that will start on when the Texas crowd will cut loose one of the best things of the meeting, a horse that in price will be as good as Yo Solo, 6 to 1. won (filed with this paper). If you follow me and stick to my advice you will find that you get information such as is seldom offered the racing public. Strictly inside, strictly on the level, and at prices worth following.

THURSDAY

TERMS:

Ten dollars for both horses, which guarantees you a winner at 5 to 1 or the subscription is continued, or if you want Wednesday's horse alone, you may remit Five Dollars, as I want to prove to you the strength of this information. Strictly one horse advised in each instance, never more.

Subscription, if for both horses, can be telegraphed at my expense.

My word is my bond, follow me and be always assured of a square deal. I know both horses are ready, and the "right" money will be down. Performance is better than promise, my record proves that.
